

Situation in the occupied Crimea and Roadmap

of demands for Russian Federation in the area of human rights

Hosted by

Emanuelis Zingeris
Vice-Chairperson of the Group of the European People's Party at the Parliamentary Assembly of Council of Europe,
Vice-Chairperson of the Committee on Legal Affairs and Human Rights

Presenters:

Roman HROMYK
Human Rights Centre ZMINA,
Ukrainian Helsinki Human Rights Union (Kyiv)

Mumine SALIYEVA
Crimean Solidarity (Crimea)

Olga SKRYPNYK
Crimean Human Rights Group
(working in exile in Kyiv)

Taras IBRAGIMOV
Ukrainian freelance journalist

Mykhailo BATRAK
Crimean Process Initiative
(Kherson)

Simon PAPUASHVILI
Programme Director at International Partnership
for Human Rights (Brussels)

Repression of dissent in the occupied Crimea

What Council of Europe can do to better protect human rights in Crimea having returned the voting right to the delegation of Russian Federation?

Featuring Taras Ibragimov, an independent journalist, recently banned from entering Crimea for 34 years for covering politically motivated trials.

Overview of the situation with human rights protection in the occupied Crimea presented by experts from human rights organizations as well as activists monitoring developments inside the peninsula.

A look into the latest developments in areas of human rights such as freedom of press, freedom of expression, freedom of press, freedom of assembly, access to justice in the occupied Crimea.

Discussion of the set of instruments that Council of Europe needs to utilize in order to regain its leverage in protecting human rights efficiently across the region.

* Snacks/drinks will be available at the event.